

The attached pictures are a good example of how flammable materials and smoking do not go together.

An employee was wearing Tyvek coveralls with leather gloves taped to the Tyvek. He was working with thinner and went to take a smoke break when the glove caught on fire. The glove had to be cut off. Obviously, the leather gloves were soaked with thinner.

